

To fill in the details, begin at the center and work outward, asking yourself:

- Who should be the background voices (officials, experts, observers)?
- Who can say what it was like to be there – to see, hear, smell, taste and feel what happened?
- Who is affected by what happened? By the story?
- What voices, people and ideas have been left out of previous coverage?